ALL SORTS.

T. K. Hymers was in Carson yesterday.

J. P. McCarty the statistician, is in town.

Conductor McCrack passed through Carson yesterday for McKinnys.

Louis De Vier, and wife, of the Indian School, went to Steamboat Sunday night.

Archie McDonald passed through Carson enroute for Virginia yesterday.

What's the matter with the sprinkling cart? Hasn't been out for two days.

The trial of W. W. Booth, who shot Beatty at Candelaria, has been set for Oct. 5th.

Perly Plane the V. & T. brakeman, has been appointed yardmaster at Virginia City.

The U. S. Grand Jury, yesterday indicted Seymour and Wall for selling whiskey to Indians.

Mr. Latta is now gardener of the State Capitol, while Mr. Doran attends to the janitor work.

Jim Burge, the well known smallpox nurse, is at the Indian school attending the two Indians.

The funeral of the late Arthur Willmet took place yesterday afternoon from the Presbyterian Church.

Ex-Sheriff Ulrich has been appointed by the mill men to look after their water interests along the Carson river.

Mrs. Shade, sister of Harry Millard, came down from Virginia City yesterday to attend the funeral of Arthur Willmet.

William Uren, the harness maker, went fishing and boat riding at the Carson river Sunday. The craft filled with water and Billy had to walk out of the stream.

Allie Kelly, who was arrested Friday for disturbing the peace, pleaded guilty to the charge in the Justice Court yesterday, and was fined $30 or fifteen days in jail. He went to jail.

E. Krans, working on the trestle at the Eureka mill yesterday, was precipitated to the rocks ten feet below and had his back severely injured. He was taken below last night for treatment.

It is rumored in railroad circles that the Humboldt Division of the S. P. Co. is to be consolidated with the Salt Lake Divisions on the 15th inst. The Truckee Division will extend to Carlin and connect to the Salt Lake. This same change was made some years ago but did not work satisfactorily and was changed back after a short trial.—Silver State.

A. T. Gibson Postmaster at Winnemucca, is dead. He was a pioneer of the Pacific Coast and had resided almost continuously in this State for about thirty years. In 1882 he was elected to the office of County Clerk of Humboldt County, which position he filled with ability for three terms. In April 1890 he was appointed Postmaster of the Winnemucca Postoffice in which capacity he was serving at the time of his death.

Where Is He?

To THE EDITOR: Sir—I will be very grateful to you if you will kindly mention in your columns an item concerning the whereabouts of A. McDaniel, supposed to have been in Carson City about three years ago, in the employ of the railroad as a blacksmith. Any information will kindly be sent to William Smith, 730 P Street, Sacramento, California.

WILLIAM SMITH.

Pine Nut.

A prospector from Pine Nut yesterday stated to an APPEAL reporter that the mother vein had been encountered, and that it was from ten to three feet in width. The stage departed for the district yesterday with another load of passengers and supplies.

Dr. Fox treats all diseases of the rectum, including hemorrhoids, fistula, fissures and ulcers, on modern scientific principles and radically cures without pain, without loss of blood and detention from business.

SMALLPOX.

Two Cases of the Disease in the Indian School.

Dr. Lee was summoned to the Stewart Institute, near Clear Creek and three miles south of Carson, last Saturday evening.

Upon his arrival at the Indian school he found two Indian bucks, one known as Jewett Adams, prostrated with smallpox. The doctor was out to see the Indians yesterday and states that the case of Jewett Adams has developed into the worst form of smallpox. Superintendent Gibson has had a pest house built about a quarter of a mile from the school, and has had the two Indians moved into it. He has purchased drugs to disinfect, and has thoroughly fumigated the buildings. A watchman has been engaged to keep and warn people away from the buildings. It is thought the disease was brought to the school by one of the sick Indians who had been on a visit to the village. All Indians will be kept out of town by the authorities during the progress of the disease. When the disorder was discovered there were about fifteen Indians at the school, but nearly all of them have left for parts unknown.

The ball game at Steamboat Springs. The ball game at Steamboat was another disappointment for Carson. The Emperiums were first at the bat, and found the regular Comstock battery, Joy and Heffron, to contend against. Those who witnessed the game say that Joy never pitched prettier, while Heffron behind the bat was way up as usual. The game was very close up to the seventh inning, and all through for that matter. In the beginning of that inning the score was 7 to 4 in Carson's favor, when the Comstocks made three runs. Land had been catching and Walsh pitching up to that time, and working together in good shape. Everybody wanted to see the new man, Ertle, pitch, so Captain Brannan put him in the box, under Ertle's protest, who said that he was not in practice, and had been sick for several days and did not think he could do justice to himself. However, he did well, and fanned two men out in the last two innings. Land, behind the bat for the Emperiums, is considered the equal if not superior of Heffron. The game stood 10 to 8 at the finish, with an inning left the Comstocks. There is one more game left in the series of five, and the two clubs have signed a contract to play five more. Umpire McGowan gave general satisfaction.

The half mile and repeat was the most exciting race of the season and was won by Joe in two straight heats. Time 51 and a fraction, which is splendid time. A large amount of money changed hands and betting was very lively.

Beyond Recovery.

The galvanized iron boat built by Phil Mighels, Will and Bob Davis of Carson has broken her fastenings at Bellevue and drifted, they know not where. Perhaps she sank into the sheltering arms of the deep or even worse, battered herself to pieces on the rocks.

The Hattie Belle reached Hot Springs yesterday with a search warrant and attempted to recover her but fate had covered the ground and nothing has been seen of the La Tosco since. She died as many a noble has died before, with no friendly surroundings, no kind words of God speed but like the flower born to blush unseen, faded from the scope of human eyes and now rests in nature's tomb.

That little boat, red, white and blue,

Born to worry those small boys two

Broke her house at Bellevue

And how is in the soup, too true, too true.—Tourist.

Hello Mister, can you tell me where I can get a good bath?

Yes Sir, go to Huff's barber shop, opposite the Capitol, County Building, and you can get a hot or cold bath for 25 cents. j28 1w

Electricity in the Future.

In the Colorado basin pulsations of solar energy beat down with a force that is fairly visible. If they could be utilized the power of all the steam engines in the State would be infantile in comparison.

Once let a practicable method of converting heat directly into electricity be discovered and the wilderness will hum with life.

Before long the deserts and mountains may be the most valuable parts of our estate. They will be our storehouses of concentrated power. Every mountain railroad will be run by electricity furnished without cost by the streams along its course. And the deserts will be vast laboratories in which the concentrated rays of the sun will be transmuted into remarkable force.

Dixon's Tragic Death.

Chief Crowley of the San Francisco Police has detailed Detective Rogers to investigate the case of John E. Dixon, the stockbroker, whose remains were found on the beach below the Cliff House, Sunday, and who it was supposed drowned himself while despondent because of financial reverses. Some of his friends state that he was possessed of a considerable sum in checks and coin when last seen, and express the opinion that his death was the result of foul play.

Police Surgeon Williams held an autopsy on the remains and found that his death was due to submersion, and that the wounds on the body had been inflicted after death. The theory of the murder has been abandoned by the police, who declare Dixon committed suicide.

A man who is foolish enough to "declare" that any one is going to inflict wounds on a dead man ought to be in an asylum.

Deadliness in Nicotine.

To show how deadly nicotine is, it is told that two men found an adder in a Wilkesbarre, Pa., cemetery one day recently. One held the reptile to the ground with a stick while his companion ran a timothy stock through the stem of his pipe and deposited the nicotine in the snake's mouth. In less than three minutes the snake was dead.

There is no necessity for any one being frightened over the fact that there are two cases of small pox at the Indian School, as every precaution has been taken to prevent the spread of the disease.
